LONGTIME MICHIGAN'S CHILDREN OFFICIAL HAS DIED: Michele Corey, vice president for programs at Michigan's Children, has died at the age of 53. She had spent more than 20 years with the organization.

"Her contributions to improvements in our state's public policies on child welfare and numerous other issues have been profound. Equally important has been her service as a role model to countless emerging child advocates and other professionals in Michigan and across the country," Michigan's Children President and CEO Matt Gillard said.
